

Virtual Activity: TAPS Good Grief Camp at Home

Activity Created/Presented by

Renee Monczynski

Activity Name

Then and Now

Age Group

13 to 15 year olds

16 to 18 year olds

Description

In this workshop we will create a project utilizing blackout poetry to share our unique story of then and now. All our stories are different, yet familiar to each other. We have learned that grief has its own language, and that sometimes we lack the words to express all of what we are experiencing. Here we will borrow words from other authors, in utilizing their words/ phrases to speak for those moments that we do not have words for, yet. At the end of the session we will have a project that reflects where we have been and where we are now, so we can see where we are going next.

Supplies Needed

Please print the attached sheets
an old book or magazine (if available)
color pens or markers
tape or glue stick
cardstock or paper

Adaptation/s

Participants can create their own pages with paper and pen from the examples, if an old book or magazine is not available.