August 1st is Gold Star Children's Day!

"TAPS is grateful to the Senate and House co-sponsors who supported the resolution introducing ‘Gold Star Children's Day.’ We look forward to celebrating all surviving military children and honoring them as the living legacies of American service and sacrifice."

Survivor Story

Much of the pandemic’s effects on everyday life this past year mirrored the grief journey experience already familiar to those across our TAPS Family. With so many of us now beginning to safely reunite in person again with friends and family we offer this reflection from surviving spouse, Elizabeth Culp Sergent, on reconnecting with peers in the wake of profound change and prolonged sense of isolation.

TAPS Expeditions

TAPS Expeditions leverage the healing power of nature for the grief journey. We are excited to offer two new experiences for you in the fall:

Men’s Blue Ridge Backpacking Expedition
October 15-19, 2021
Join your fellow male survivors on this dynamic backpacking and rock climbing expedition through North Carolina’s Pisgah National Forest.

Midwest Canoe Expedition
November 4-8, 2021
Journey with your fellow survivors through the convergence of seven different ecosystems by canoe and foot as we explore the Shawnee National Forest in Southern Illinois on this late fall expedition.

Applications for both trips are open from August 1-8, 2021.

“Physical Reactions to Grief and Loss”

Grief is more than an emotional reaction to loss. Our bodies may even manifest it physically. You are not alone if you’ve ever noticed disruptions and disturbances to physical health while grieving, regardless of how you are coping emotionally. Learn more from experts Susan Blankenship and Rebecca Porter on your body’s natural reaction to grief and learn to recognize when symptoms need a doctor’s attention.
