OVERVIEW

Families who have lost a loved one in military service to our nation will gather for the 24th National Military Survivor Seminar and Good Grief Camp from Thursday, May 24 through Monday, May 28. The seminar, which offers a Good Grief Camp for children and informative workshops for adults focused on coping with traumatic grief, provides many opportunities for surviving family members to remember the life and legacy of their fallen loved ones, regardless of the circumstances of their death.

More than 2,000 participants will take part in the five-day seminar, which offers a TAPS Good Grief Camp for children of the fallen, workshops and activities for family members and all those grieving the loss of a loved one in the military and an opportunity for families to remember the life and legacy of their loved ones. Attendees will include loved ones of those killed in action and those who died from other causes including suicide, accidents or illnesses.

On Saturday evening, Air Force Gen. Paul Selva, Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will host seminar participants at a banquet, where Robert Irvine, Food Network celebrity chef, will be joined the best of the military chefs to cook for TAPS families. Families will also participate in the National Memorial Day Parade and activities on Monday at Arlington National Cemetery.

"The TAPS family celebrates the lives and legacies of our fallen heroes every day, but on Memorial Day we join with all Americans to honor their lives of selfless service and sacrifice," said Bonnie Carroll, TAPS President and Founder and 2015 Presidential Medal of Freedom recipient. "Over Memorial Day Weekend, many families of the fallen gather together here in Washington to connect with and support each other, and we are joined by the tens of thousands of additional families across the country who are commemorating the lives of their loved ones in their local communities."

At the TAPS Good Grief Camp, over 500 children who have lost a loved one as a result of their military service will learn coping strategies and meet other children grieving a loss. During the camp, the campers are paired one-on-one with volunteer military mentors, trained by TAPS.

This Memorial Day weekend, there are many ways to engage with us via social media. Use #GratefulNation and help celebrate the lives of those who died in service to our nation and honor all those left behind.
